PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS State of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his
Carriage Factory,
First and Morrison Streets
and refers to the following
CARD.

We have used the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by E. R. Hoagland we feel pleasure in saying that in our opinion it is the safest and best mode of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles we have ever used. It is without bolt or screw and is therefore easily operated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be free from the rattling sound which so often annoys. It may be detached in an instant and is always secure. The change to this style of coupling any buggy or vehicle now in use can be made with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

Bazaine still shut up in Metz

SEDAN, France Aug 2 — M MacMahon is trying to reach Bazaine by way of Mezieres, Montmedy and Thionville but the French are at a battle ... Varennes and Dun. Fighting is going on between Dun, Buzancy and Mouzon. An important action will probably take place before long near Montmedy.

The Prussian Advance on Paris

PARIS Aug 2 — ... says important information was received today by the Government concerning the numbers and position of the enemy. Prince Frederick Charles ... and a portion of the King's ... left ... hold Bazaine. The Prussians may reach Paris in six days.

French Blockade in the Baltic

French Strategy—They Give the Prussians a Clear Road to March to Paris

The French armies under Bazaine and MacMahon, according to private advices received, are at Montmedy and Mezieres whither they have returned so that the Crown Prince may have a clear field to march to Paris. When once in the clutches of Trochu who is perfectly able to take care of the capital McMahon will sweep down on his rear and grind his army finer than powder.

Paris advices report eight departments in possession of the Prussians namely ... Upper Rhine Moselle Meurthe Meuse Vosges Marne and Haute Marne. They contain 3 361 000 inhabitants.

Letters from Rheims and one received via Belgium from the French camp report that Bazaine gained a great advantage in the battle of ... capturing many guns and prisoners. These reports are probably repetitions of previous rumors which have not been confirmed and are only telegraphed in the absence of official information.

Pfalsburg still continues a heroic defense. A church and twenty one houses were destroyed by the enemy's shells and the garrison has repulsed two assaults, in which the Prussians lost 1 500 men. The town is well supplied with provisions and munitions of war. It has been summoned repeatedly to capitulate but the commander replies that he will blow up the place first.

The Route taken by the Prussian Forces

PARIS, August 27 Midnight — The following news was made public at the office of the Minister of the Interior.

The Prussians are pushing through Nancy and going towards Chalons. The siege of Toul has been abandoned owing to the vigorous resistance by the garrison. The Prussian scouts cut the railway at Lamoully between Montmedy and Mezieres. The body was repulsed by French sharp shooters and the rail ... repaired.

PARIS, August 2 — The King and Crown Prince are moving on the city by way of Marne and Aube.

France Will Fight to the Last Extremity

PARIS, August — It is reported the Government is preparing a note to be addressed to the Representatives abroad, announcing that France will prosecute war to the last extremity ... proposal looking to peace will be entertained as long as the enemy are on French soil.

... August ... A Berlin ... General Falkens ... is ... great part of his army to relieve King William and join the Crown Prince.

Up to Wednesday says a dispatch from Berlin the army of the King and Prince Charles has been reinforced by over 130 000 men and by next Sunday 60 000 additional reserves will be at the front. King William telegraphed to the Queen and Van Wert that the war would be over in twenty days. Sixty thousand of these reserves under the Duke of Saxony will form the reserves of the Crown Prince's army and have already united with him making a total force of 200 000. It is reported that a battle began at 11 this morning ten miles from Montmedy between the French under Bazaine and Prussians under Steinmetz. Nothing known of the result.

NEWS FROM ENGLISH SOURCES

The Prussians Advance

LONDON August 27 — Thursday evening the Prussian army were at Bar Le Duc. The advance had reached a point midway between Chalons and Thierry. The march on Paris was to be conducted slowly by the Prussians as no further opposition was anticipated.

There is authority for saying the fortifications of Paris, unless manned by at least 100 000 men are worthless. According to French reports Lunéville is so filled with Prussian wounded that 3 000 are left unsheltered in the street.

The French Government Fortifying a Stronghold for its Protection

LONDON August 2 — Bourges the Capital of the Department of Cher is fortifying. It is said that the Emperor and members of the Senate and Corps Legislatif will go thither. The right wing of the French army have already taken that direction.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Democrats of Missouri have resolved to make no State nominations this year but if they can promote a Republican bolt they will support the bolting ticket.

A son and namesake of James G. Birney the first Presidential candidate of the old Liberty party will be a candidate for Congress from the Michigan Sixth District.

Kentucky like Connecticut has still the word "white" in its Constitution. Nevertheless the negroes have voted there, which proves that even the Bourbons of that State recognize the validity of the fifteenth amendment.

The New York World celebrates the North Carolina election by advising the Democrats to quit their assaults upon the colored people to cease clamoring over dead issues and to silence the cry for a white man's party.

Clubs are forming throughout the Fifth Congressional District of New York—the Seventh Tenth Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wards of New York city—to advocate the election of Assistant District Attorney Wm. M. Tweed, Jr., in place of John Morrissey.

The very careful census of New York city by the national officers will be the completest exposure yet made of the double and treble voting of the Democrats in all the late elections and will especially establish the fact that Hoffman was cheated out of the electoral vote of the State in 1868.

Says the Philadelphia Press: It is cheering to note the unity of the Republican party of Pennsylvania. In no other State have the Republicans been less disturbed by personal disappointment or more heartily and disinterestedly devoted to Republican principles. The result is an ... good ... October election.

The Illinois Republican Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress at large State Treasurer Superintendent of Common Schools and two Penitentiary Commissioners will meet at Springfield on the 1st of next September. There will be about 118 delegates or one to every 100 ... and one ... fraction of 250 Republican votes.

... McCagle, a Democratic candidate for Congress in the Thirteenth Illinois District and present Representative accepted the nomination ... de claring as follows: "I don't want the negro vote ... The negro ... would be a fool to vote the Democratic ticket. Let him stand by his ... The Republican party gave him his ... let him stand by that party." At the last election he was ... small majority ... votes. There are more than that number of colored voters in the district.

The Democratic National Campaign Committee ... Congress ... to be used as a campaign document, have resorted to the publication of the minority report of the Committee appointed to investigate the charges against Gen. ... engaged in circulating broadcast throughout the land this libel upon the honored soldier and gentleman. A more disreputable document than this report was never printed and the Democratic National Executive Committee by endorsing it in this manner and sending it out to their ignorant and illiterate constituents are only showing the depth of their own moral and political degradation.

NOTES ON THE WAR.

THE SITUATION AS PRESENTED BY MANY OF OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Napoleon has laughed over our disaster at Bull Run. When history repeats itself on French soil he finds nothing to laugh at.

Napoleon should consult Bishop Berkeley to find out that the course of empire does not take its way in the direction he was moving last week.

If Napoleon is taken prisoner within the next month it will verify the prediction that he would be in ... sixty days after the declaration of war.

... Napoleon announces that he will return to Paris dead or victorious. This is melodramatic but not exactly original. Gen. O'Neill invaded Canada on the same plan.

History repeats itself. The shouts of "a Berlin," with which the populace of Paris cheered the French army bound for the Rhine frontier, were but the repetition of the shouts in Washington of "on to Richmond" which cheered our Union army bound for the first Bull Run.

When the Germans are jollifying over the success of their countrymen they should not forget to toast in foaming lager the best friend of German unity—Louis Napoleon. He banished petty jealousies buried sectional differences and made the Germans throughout the world one people.

Punch has an admirable cartoon of "A Vision on the Way." The Emperor and the little Prince riding by night at the head of a vast army whose shadowy forms fill all the background of the picture meet the apparition of the first Napoleon who bars their progress with a warning gesture.

A New York paper says: The minor tactics of the first Napoleon are obsolete. The bayonet has lost nine tenths of its importance. The fiery Frenchman loses by this, the calmer German, who is the better sharpshooter, gains by it. There will be very much long range skirmishing and maneuvering.

M Paul Cassagnac was applauded when he called upon the French Government, in imitation of the Roman people to appoint prefects to Mayence Treves and Cologne, without waiting to conquer them, and when he exclaimed, "Peasants of Champagne! if you want manure, send your carts to the frontier for Prussians!"

McMaster's of the Freeman's Journal insists that the right wing of Napoleon's army was first broken when he withdrew his troops from Rome after which the Prussian needle-guns finished the work. As Napoleon deserted the Holy Father so God deserted Napoleon, and crushed alike his presumption and infidelity at the start.

A few days ago Napoleon announced to France, "I go to place myself at the center of the position." Since then the "center of the position" has shifted so rapidly that it is at present impossible to determine just where it is. All we know about it is that it is somewhere on the road to Paris and it has required vigorous travelling to keep with it.

The intelligent minds of Holland incline to the opinion that a confederation of Northwestern Europe including Denmark Holland and Belgium, would best insure the liberty and independence of each and realize that balance of power in Europe necessary for its peace. The German idea, however seems to be expansion and absorption and the establishment of a great empire—the most powerful on the globe.

The invasion of France by the Prussians in 1792 and that by the Allies in 1813 followed the same plan which in both cases originated with the Major General of the Prussian forces. On these occasions an entrance was made by the valley of the Moselle. Metz and Thionville were avoided at Verdun and Longwy having been captured a descent was made by the valley of the Meuse whence the valley of the Marne was gained, leading by Chalons straight on to Paris.

Smucker in his "Public and Private Life of Louis Napoleon" (page 110) says: "Seventeen years were the limit of the supremacy of Napoleon I. Seventeen years the restored Bourbons reigned. Seventeen years Louis Phillippe occupied the throne and we may safely predict that seventeen years will be the longest period allotted by the hand of Destiny to the restored dynasty of the Bonapartes. The parallel may seem absurd, but it is based on solid reasons and deduced from rational inference." The Empire was announced about January 1853.

Baron Rothschild is the member of the North German Reichstag from Frankfort-on-the-Main, and was the only member absent when that body met to hear the King's address and vote the necessary supplies. He forwarded the excuse that he was kept away by business, the announcement of which was received by the Chambers with shouts of derision and cries of "shabby, shabby," the French loan, etc. Frankfort will hardly re-elect him as her representative. It is noticeable that the city the liberal party of which has always been opposed to the Bismarck regime, is now enthusiastic in support of Prussia. Many of her sons who had preferred the freer air of England are returning to offer themselves and their means in aid of the Government.

King William's proclamation to the French people has a lamb like gentleness, that almost amounts to an apology for invading France, except in the sentence authorizing corps commanders to punish individual communities violating the usages of war and to regulate the requisitions necessary to sustain their troops. This indicates that the Prussians are to draw whatever supplies are needed from the country through which they march but are to be careful to take nothing that they do not want and cannot carry. It is long since France has been made to support hostile armies but the practice of billeting upon the enemy is so thoroughly French and would be so ruthlessly pursued by the French had they succeeded in getting into Germany that no Frenchman can complain of it.

Kladderadatsch the German Punch has a cartoon in a late number which represents the French Emperor depicted with all his wrinkles and with more than his rightful protuberance with one foot upon the Rhine drinking from a bowl of human blood. Beneath is the legend: "The monster must needs drink blood to bring back his lost youth. Be it so. He shall have his fill." ... presents us with the portrait of a Frenchman working a mitrailleur. Below him is an immense field covered with dead bodies ... It is not five minutes ... began and the war is already over. I suppose I must have turned the handle too fast. If ... ended a patriotic ... at the Germans the ... on the French is rather severe. ... at the French Government is intended ... the sequence of events is awful.

The Edinburgh Review is devoted largely to the consideration of war topics. Its leading article is a long a comprehensive review of the situation in Europe. Editorially it says: The only salvation of the French army is in a thorough change of policy such as the appointment of Gen Trochu would indicate. The danger is that there is no time to make such a change effective with an able active and persistent enemy pressing upon them at every point. France is suffering, as we suffered in the early days of our great war because political considerations have been allowed to determine military promotion. The question in regard to an officer has been not simply, is he a good soldier? but is he a Bonapartist or an Orleanist an Imperialist or a Republican? This is what the Empire has cost France and in the hour of her humiliation she is learning a lesson which is not likely to result to the advantage of Louis ...

MONDAY MORNING AUGUST 29 18

The Advance on Paris

The [illegible] of the German advance on Paris is identical with that of the allies on that city in 1814. The Germans, after [illegible] of the river Marne, [illegible] directly towards Paris [illegible] the [illegible] south of that stream. The [illegible] country traversed [illegible] very [illegible]. It is [illegible] the French that German troops have appeared both at Arcis sur Aube and at [illegible]. The places cannot be less than sixty miles apart, the former lying nearly south of the latter. This would appear to represent the distance between the two wings of the advancing army. The right has advanced from Chalons to Rheims, the left has taken the route from Nancy to St Dizier, and thence to Arcis sur Aube. Rheims is ninety-seven miles east north-east of Paris, Arcis-sur-Aube is about one hundred miles east south east of that city. A Berlin dispatch says that on Saturday the Prussian headquarters were at St Dizier, a point some distance east of Arcis sur Aube.

This region was rendered forever famous by the brilliancy of the first Napoleon's defensive campaign in 1814. Outnumbered by the allies at the rate of ten to one he nevertheless made a defense which will for ever remain a wonder in military history, and which alone would render his name immortal. He flew from one point to another with lightning rapidity; he struck one corps after another of the allied army, and in every instance gained a victory, but his victories were fruitless because of the fearful odds in numbers against him. The allies, however, were so greatly alarmed at the energy of his movements, his consummate generalship and his astonishing achievements with the resources at his command, that they offered peace again and again, making only the condition that France should be restricted to the boundaries she had before the Revolution. Only ten days before his capital fell he could have had peace on this condition. Corps after corps of the allied army was defeated at different points, yet such was their weight of numbers that they made steady progress in the direction of Paris. A fearful struggle took place at Arcis-sur-Aube, the same town that the Prussians have now reached. Napoleon had the advantage, but other corps of the allied army were pressing on towards Paris and he determined to make a sudden movement toward the Rhine and cut their communications. Accordingly he marched from Arcis directly to St Dizier, thus uncovering Paris. He expected the allies to take the alarm at once and follow him, but they stood on their way to Paris and captured the city.

The splendor of the first Napoleon's achievements on this ground are in striking contrast with the incompetency and imbecility of the present Emperor. France in 1814 was exhausted, yet the first Napoleon for months together kept all Europe at bay. To-day France is full of men and resources, yet an enemy whom she once despised is overrunning her territory. In the present conflict the Emperor is not heard of; in the struggle of 1814 the Emperor was the soul of France, nay France itself. But the world, however much it may detest many of the acts of the great Napoleon, will hereafter regard it as an insult to genius to mention the name of the present Emperor in connection with that of the mighty man who stood at the head of the first Empire.

The present military policy of the French is inexplicable except on one theory. A great German army is marching straight on Paris, yet the French commanders evidently do not believe that city is in danger. McMahon drew his forces away from Chalons toward the Belgian frontier, expressly, as it seems, that the German army might pass by. Certainly this would not have been done had Paris been deemed in serious peril. That city is expected to hold out against the army advancing to attack it. If that army can be defeated before Paris the French may annihilate it. McMahon may come up on its rear. If the French succeed in striking that army in this way, the result can hardly prove otherwise than disastrous to it. It is obvious that some strategy of this description is contemplated. On no other theory can the action of the French be accounted for. Yet it may well be supposed that the German commanders have too much military skill to be thus entrapped. The military situation there is truly surprising and may well command the attention of the world.

Undoubtedly France still has large armies, and in the presence of an invader her people are united. Nothing short of the most incompetent leadership can cause her to fall so soon. There should be at least one million Frenchmen in arms at such a crisis as this, all good soldiers. If there are not, there is utter incompetency in all who are connected with the Government. France has the men, if her leaders only know how to organize them. She can certainly put into the field for the defense of her own soil a larger force than Germany can bring against her. But from the intelligence at hand no idea of the actual strength of her armies can be gained. Her present strategy in allowing the Germans to march on almost without molestation toward Paris is either the result of conscious strength and a purpose to make a brilliant stroke or it is an evidence of weakness that the world was not prepared to witness. Surely the French armies under McMahon and Bazaine would not intentionally have uncovered Paris had they not deemed General Trochu's army fully sufficient for the defense of that city.

The policy of the French in holding the fortified places on the frontier, not one of which of any note has yet fallen, bears, as we have before remarked, a striking resemblance to the strategy of Napoleon in 1814. If the invading army should be defeated before Paris, the French would certainly be in a situation to deal a terrible blow to their enemies. A few days will suffice to reveal the plot of this mighty drama.

The Courrier des Etats Unis, the leading French paper in the United States, now ignores Napoleon. It places France above every dynasty, saying: "What matters that there is a man named Napoleon, if Napoleon is [illegible] and his hand too feeble to hold the sword. We do not know anybody when there is question of the salvation of the honor, of the grandeur of France. Let the power be trusted to whomsoever shall take it, and in whatever form it may be [illegible] this incarnation of the people, be it a monarchy or a republic, but let them give us victory."

In a speech on the political situation in the South, delivered in Washington a few days ago, Attorney General Akerman effectually refuted the charge that the present Constitution of Georgia was framed by a convention composed of negroes and carpet baggers. The usual attendance in the convention [illegible] members of the [illegible] tives of Georgia [illegible] of the Southern States, making 121 [illegible] were born in foreign countries and 20 at the North. Of these 26, fourteen were residents of the Southern States prior to the war. And there were only about a dozen of what are called carpet baggers in the body.

The Corvallis Mercury says [illegible] Congress of the United States [illegible] Congressman Smith [illegible] to a different conclusion. He says that all [illegible] [illegible] pretty fix for Democracy to get [illegible]

The Common Council of Albany have purchased an Engine House and the [illegible] [illegible] brave [illegible]

The McMinnville Mills are now running on new wheat, turning out large quantities of flour.

J H Foster, of Albany, last week purchased 8,000 bushels of wheat in one lot for [illegible] cents per bushel.

The rain that fell here the other day did not extend very far south. None at all fell in Yamhill county.

J M Moore of Oregon City, for twenty seven years a resident of Oregon, has gone on a visit to his old home in Missouri.

Mr J J Williams, living near Scio, while oiling some of the machinery of a thresher was caught by the revolving machinery and his arm frightfully mangled.

On Saturday morning a barn belonging to a man named Brown, a few miles from McMinnville, was burned. Two horses perished and ten tons of hay were consumed. Indians are supposed to have set the barn on fire.

The Linn County Agricultural Fair will be held on the grounds of the Society near Albany, on the 20th, 21st, 22d, 23d and 24th of September. The past Fairs of the Linn County Society have been a credit to our State, and we feel satisfied that the Fair of 1870 will fully equal its predecessors.

According to a letter from Salem to the Corvallis Gazette there is just now a great rush among the Democracy for the loaves and fishes. Bill Watkinds says he had 300 applications for the position of guard at the Penitentiary. He will employ a good many, but don't think the people would stand 300.

The people of Albany sometime ago promised to grant such aid to the Oregon and California Railroad Company as would induce them to build a road in that place, it being some distance from the direct line of route. The Company now ask that this promise of aid be put in a satisfactory shape. The Albany papers urge the people to take hold of it. Property holders in Albany, it is expected, will become responsible for the amount.

Persons who have arrived at Albany from the east side of the mountains by the road over the Cascades report that there are now from 75 to 100 settlers in Ochoco Valley, and that the country already presents the appearance of a fine agricultural district well settled up and producing freely. Harney Lake Valley is the best grazing country in the world, and Joe Teal has at present nine hundred head of cattle luxuriating in the grasses of that valley.

From the Albany Democrat: Mr A F Cherry, proprietor of the Albany foundry, is putting up a machine which he has invented, called the "Combined Header and Thresher," and he contemplates having it ready for trial next week. The machine is calculated to head, thresh, clean and sack from ten to twelve acres of wheat per day, using as auxiliaries only three men and six horses, which, for economy and utility, will excel anything in the harvesting line ever before invented.

From H A Hogue, Superintendent of the construction of the U S Branch Mint at Dalles City, we are informed that funds have been received by D M French, Esq, disbursing agent, for the payment of extra service performed on the work between May 10th and September 11th, 1869, during which time the employees worked ten hours per day instead of eight hours, a legal days' work. Mr Hogue requests us to say that vouchers will be prepared for each employee, and will be ready for delivery on application to him on and after Tuesday, Aug 30th, and upon presentation of the vouchers, receipted by the persons in whose favor they are drawn, to Mr French, they will be paid.

PERSONAL NOTES

In Waterbury, Conn, Edward Maltby, 19 years of age, committed suicide recently because of mortification at his failure to pass an examination at West Point.

A correspondent of the London (Tenn) Star says that Mrs Ann Coltharp, who lives in Roane county, and who is 119 years of age, is the oldest inhabitant of the State. She and her husband came to the United States just 100 years ago when she was a young bride of 19 summers.

A rabid Southern paper compliments General Sheridan by denouncing him as a Yankee spy and Prussian sympathizer. Alluding to Napoleon's decree by which Sheridan was prevented from observing movements at the French front, the same paper observes that Yankee tricks do not always succeed—doubtless having reference to a recent occasion in which such tricks were eminently successful.

General E P Newton, a well known citizen and prominent Democrat in Rhode Island, attempted suicide at Newport a few evenings since. He has been in ill health of late, and was suffering from mental aberration. He sent his attendants from the room on some pretense and with a razor nearly severed his arm and cut his throat from ear to ear, but too high up, and in a manner which did not accomplish his purpose. He still lives and may recover though at present very weak from loss of blood.

Gath writes as follows from Long Branch to the Chicago Tribune: "Among these Fisk, Jr was present, with his boon associates, he dressed in velvet and duck, and it is alleged all round the Branch that he has twice offered premeditated insults to the President and that he meditated a third one. One of these insults I was told consisted in putting his thumb to his nose when the President drove past him and another was moving off a boat while the President approached. The leading citizen of the Branch told an editor of my acquaintance that if Fisk had carried into execution a grosser insult he proposed, the people of the Branch would have lynched him."

THE TERRITORIES

The Deseret News is printed upon type cast in Salt Lake City and upon paper manufactured in the same place.

Judge Whitson, accompanied by his family, has arrived at Boise City and will at once assume his judicial duties.

A Colorado gardener has gathered twenty four hundred quarts of strawberries from an acre and a half of vines this year.

A little row took place at Olympia on Wednesday night between Teutons and Hibernians. From a social converse, clinking of glasses and toasting, they proceeded to cursing and finally to basting each other with chairs and benches until the scene became a general pandemonium. When order was finally restored the place looked as if lightning had struck somewhere near and scattered things somewhat. Half a dozen or more of the participants left the field with their faces painted in various shades. It seems to have been a little "discussion" about European affairs.

Hand on the Man. A contemporary, speaking of the efforts of a certain gentleman in this State, in behalf of morality and religion, says: "This man is working himself to death, and the members of the Christian Church should not hesitate an hour, to second his efforts with their money and influence."

Another Report about Bazaine

[illegible] August [illegible] A letter from a correspondent at [illegible] the 24th says it is reported that Bazaine with a portion of his army is between Montmedy and [illegible] the Belgian frontier where he is waiting the arrival of McMahon. The report is considered doubtful.

Financial Report.

Washington, August [illegible]. The Treasury [illegible] statement shows [illegible] in currency [illegible] 291,705. [illegible] Receipts for the fiscal year to date are $[illegible]

The Emperor Suspended

[illegible] August 27.—A Paris correspondent of the daily Telegraph writes that the Emperor is actually suspended. His Cabinet remains in power only because its chief was thought to possess administrative ability. The new government of Paris, Trochu and the Committee of Defense, now rule France absolutely.

Dispatches from Paris

Paris, August 27.—The Minister of the Interior officially announces that the Prussian cavalry are at Arcis sur Aube.

Yesterday a detachment of uhlans attacked the railroads at Epernay. Some entering the town were repulsed with loss. A strong column of Prussian artillery have entered Chalons.

The Strasburg garrison made a successful sortie yesterday.

Detachments of Prussians are reported at Rheims, Varrennes, Verdun, Bar le Duc and Stenay, and on the railroad between Soissons and Rheims.

Burglary—Post Mortem Examination—Seward's Movements

San Francisco, August 28.—On Friday night the dry goods store of Supple & White on Third street was opened by burglars and robbed of $2,000 worth of goods. No arrest has as yet been made.

The physicians who made the post mortem examination at Brooklyn, Alameda county, on the body of Annie Mooney state positively that no outrage was committed whatever. The impression prevails that Woods, who was arrested on suspicion, will be released from custody to-day.

Mr Seward went to Belmont last evening and has not yet returned. He goes on board H M S Zealous to-morrow, and in the evening dines at the Lick House with the military and naval officers stationed here.

Escape from Jail—Fire

Stockton, August 28.—Michael Roach, confined in the county jail on the charge of robbery, escaped this afternoon while the room was being cleaned.

The junk store on the corner of Centre and Lafayette streets was slightly damaged by fire last evening.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

Dispatch from Canyonville

Canyonville, 28.—While John Stinger, son of the brewer, was out hunting yesterday afternoon when his gun was prematurely discharged, the charge of shot lacerating his right elbow in a shocking manner. Dr Colsig immediately summoned Dr Plummer, the Telegraph Superintendent, who was at Roseburg, to his assistance, and the arm was successfully amputated by them this morning.

Oregon City, August 28.—About 11 o'clock last night Charles Randolph accidentally fell a distance of sixty feet off the bluff east of Main street and was instantly killed. He had been drinking.

The great railroad era has dawned upon this State. The locomotive whistle is already heard in our midst. The North Pacific railroad have a regiment of engineers and surveyors in the field and will soon have thousands of men constructing the road. Hundreds of new settlers are arriving every month to fill up our State and develop her resources. But it matters not how many come, Kohn & Fisher will be ready for them with all kinds of Clothing and Staple goods. They are constantly receiving fresh supplies by every steamer, so their stock cannot be exhausted. Call and see them at their old stand on Front street.

The at Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from Irritation of the Throat and Hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." The demulcent ingredients allay pulmonary irritation, and after public speaking or singing, when the throat is wearied and weakened by too much exercise, their use will give renewed strength to the vocal organs.

If you wish to buy or rent Farms or City Property call on PARRISH & ATKINSON, Corner of Front and Alder Sts, Portland, Oregon.

Spiritual Grove Meeting.—At Bulkeville on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept 9th, 10th and 11th. Good speakers have been secured for the occasion. The P T boats will carry passengers to and fro for half price. They will also dispatch an extra boat on Sunday for the benefit of those wishing to go on that day.

Poor unfortunate Batrachian. In what a sad plight he must have been. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers. Many a once tuneful voice among those who belong to the genus homo is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head" or on the lungs, or both combined. For the above mentioned croakers we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised, but we rejoice to know that all human singers may keep their heads clear and their throats in tune by a timely use of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr Pierce's Alt Ext or Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.

Astoria Items.—From our regular correspondent, Aug 25th: The weather in this part of the country is delightful; fine bracing winds, not too warm [illegible].

The U S steamer [illegible] arrived Thursday. The [illegible] Commodore Taylor on board on an inspection tour, having visited all the light houses from San Francisco to this place, and sails to-morrow morning for Shoalwater and Puget Sound. The [illegible] landed about thirty tons of light house material at Cape Blanco for the light house at that point.

Prof. Plummer arrived in town by the Wednesday boat from Portland and will give two readings in this place on Friday and Saturday evenings. Everybody is preparing for a good laugh.

The bark [illegible] arrived from San Francisco Thursday forenoon.

Man Killed at Oregon City.—The telegraph reports the death of a man by falling off the bluff at Oregon City while in a state of intoxication. The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury: On Sunday morning, August 28th, 1870, the body of a man was found under the bluff in the rear of the Cliff House at Oregon City, whereupon the Coroner, Dr Forbes Barclay, was notified, who immediately ordered Marshal Ryan to summon a jury for the purpose of an inquest. The jury, after a full examination of the body, find that this man's name is Rudolph Irmsher, about 26 years of age, German by birth, and that he came to his death by falling over the bluff on the night of the 27th inst, between the hours of 11 P M and 3 o'clock A M. Signed, Henry Warren, foreman; L Diller, C E Warren, C W Greenman, John M Meldrum, W J Colwell, Forbes Barclay, Coroner.

Prison Chaplain.—The Advocate is advocating the appointment of a Chaplain for the Oregon Penitentiary. None is authorized by Legislative action. Those who have been acting in the capacity of religious teachers during the past year, have done so through the courtesy of the officers of the prison. Rev Messrs Waller and Parrish of Salem have performed much valuable service by preaching to the convicts. The gospel ought to be preached to them with regularity. To have this done a Chaplain is needed. He should have a suitable chapel in which to hold services, conduct Sabbath school and lead Bible classes. We hope this matter will be brought before the [illegible] Legislature, and that it will receive prompt and effective action. The history of other State Prisons undeniably show that the services of a good Chaplain prove a great blessing to such institutions.

Serious Accident.—An employee on the Oregon and California Railroad by the name of [illegible] Weed was severely injured while at work at East Portland on Saturday morning. He was riding on a small car down the side track, leading from the main road to the water's edge, where the lighters discharge iron. The car was moving quite rapidly along the incline track and Weed, wishing to check the speed before it reached the barge, placed a bar of iron between the ties. The weight of the car was much greater than he expected. The bar was wrenched from his grasp, and he was thrown about fifteen feet. He struck with his back on the edge of the barge and rolled off into the water. At first his companions supposed him killed. He was pulled out and removed to the hospital, and there are strong hopes of his final recovery.

Board of Trade.—The first "case" on trial before the Board of Trade came off on Friday evening. It was a matter between Mr Lowenberg and the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. As we understand the matter it stands about thus: The O S N Co agreed to carry 30 tons of freight for Lowenburg to Lewiston, if delivered to them at Portland in the month of July. After half the freight had been received and transported to the place of destination, the Snake river fell and the Company refused to receive the remainder. After the arguments and facts had been submitted the Board rendered a decision in favor of Lowenburg for the sum of $[illegible] damages caused by non fulfillment of contract on the part of the O S N Co. Stout for Lowenburg, Trimble & Strong for the Company.

Meeting of Germans at Oregon City.—On Friday evening an enthusiastic meeting of Germans was held at the Court House, for the purpose of raising funds for the wounded soldiers, and widows and orphans of Germany. John Schram was elected Chairman and T Bonnett and George A [illegible] Treasurers. One hundred and twenty five dollars was subscribed at the meeting and a committee was appointed to canvass the [illegible] W [illegible] Johnson and Charles E Warren addressed the meeting in favor of the [illegible]. The meeting adjourned with cheers for the German and American Flags.

Saved from Being Robbed.—Night before last as officers [illegible] and M[illegible] were making their rounds they observed a couple of suspicious persons leading a drunken man to an out of the way stable. They approached the parties and asked what they were doing with the man. They answered that they were taking care of him. The officers afterwards learned that the drunken man had about $[illegible] stowed away in the stable, which no doubt was saved to him by the timely arrival of the police.

The Trade [illegible] Alaska.—But two steamers have so far left [illegible] the direct trade with [illegible] [illegible] to our Northwest possessions [illegible] is already beginning to [illegible] We learn [illegible] [illegible] the amount [illegible] between the [illegible] Government and the Alaska Commercial Company.

Circus [illegible] on Saturday evening the canvas [illegible] Great Overland Circus and Menagerie was crowded with men, women and children [illegible] the astonishing acts of the performers [illegible] evening at 8 o'clock, another exhibition will be given. See advertisement.

[illegible] The challenge of Henry Coulter of Pittsburg, Pa, the champion oarsman of the United States [illegible] the Champion of England, has been accepted by the latter. The race to take place [illegible] This may be of interest to oarsmen on our waters.

[illegible] Any information left at this office which will lead to the recovery of a black gutta percha walking stick, silver mounted, inscribed "W [illegible]" will be thankfully received [illegible] be made to the return of the staff.

Look out for Thieves.—A few of the petty sneak thieves and [illegible] of late are infesting this city. [illegible] Farmers and citizens [illegible] meet them as they deserve [illegible]

Willamettes.—[illegible] were out on Saturday night with a band of music to try their engine with the new suction hose received by last steamer. It performed admirably and the throwing was very satisfactory.

Oysters.—The oyster season has commenced again and Burchardt at the Gem advertises his [illegible] that he receives fresh [illegible] three times a week.

THE PARK QUESTION

PORTLAND August 27 1870

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Some weeks since, the City Council by resolution, authorized the Committee on Streets and Public Property to take steps towards securing grounds for Park purposes. At the same meeting of the Council a proposition from Messrs Russell & Ferry agents for the owners of the parks between Stark and Salmon streets was read in which they asked $6 000 per park block. At a subsequent meeting of the Council the Committee on Streets reported the fact already known to the Council of the price asked and stated, what every one knew to be true, that the price was extravagant and then they suffered the matter to drop. Now it appears to me that that vital matter should not have been suffered to rest in that manner. If the Committee deemed the price exorbitant as it really was they should have endeavored to have procured a more advantageous offer. The asking price and the taking price of property are often very different sums of money. And I believe that if the Committee had signified the least earnestness about the matter that the owners of those parks actuated as they should be and are doubtless by a laudable public spirit, would have consented to have sold them to the city for about half of the asking price which is about their real value. But the Committee, as I understand has given them no chance whatever to modify their proposal by signifying on its part the least desire to purchase at any price. Now, Mr Editor for one I cannot understand the action of the Council in regard to public improvements. It appears thus far, that all expenditures of a public character have been made in the north end of the city. The parks in the First Ward are all graded and sidewalked at the public expense and probably by another year will at the public expense, be ornamented with shade trees and enclosed with suitable fences. While this has been done in the First Ward in regard to the Park what has been done in the Second and Third in this respect? In the greater portion of the Second Ward there are as yet no Parks nor legal streets and both in that and the Third Ward, Park street is a strip two hundred feet wide, at the present writing ungraded and ornamented only with stumps and logs. Now Mr Editor, why is this? Why is it that these public expenditures are confined almost solely to the First Ward? Is it because as they claim that they have smarter Councilmen or is it not rather that the Councilmen from that Ward devote more studious attention to their particular Ward than do those from the others? There could possibly be no greater ornament to the city than to have Park Row extended from the mountain to the river and this desirable consummation could be effected now as it never can be here after. At a cost probably not exceeding $30 000 this and avenue might be opened. I see by reference to your advertising columns that the property abutting on East Park on the Raleigh Addition is to be sold at auction next Wednesday. Now if the Committee on Streets, acting under the authority given it, should make the endeavor we are confident that they could open Park street in that addition to its full width by making the necessary arrangements with the present owners at a moderate sum and then the lots thus abridged would bring fully as much after such abridgement on account of the frontage on a park instead of a street. At any rate the result is worthy of an effort. And then in regard to the parks between Stark and Salmon, we deem it due from the city that all laudable efforts be made to secure them for park purposes. The citizens in the rear of the park have exercised the public spirit to demand the improvement of High street which is to be graded and sidewalked this season, while in front of them they have as yet neither streets nor parks and must be content, we suppose, for awhile yet to pick their way from Seventh street through the stumps and mud to get to their sidewalks on Eighth. Now for one, Mr Editor I deem it high time that some attention was paid to Park street outside of the first ward and I would, through your columns, suggest to the members of the Street Committee from the second and third wards that their constituency demand of them that they see to it that the people of those wards have their share of parks and improvements. If the Committee under the authority they now possess should at this, the most opportune period which will ever probably occur secure to the city this avenue extending through its whole length, at a fair valuation, they will receive the encomiums of all classes

[From San Francisco Papers]

Gaulois relates that when the Emperor offered to Trochu the Governorship of Paris and command of the forces here, the latter stipulated that he must be free to act as he thought proper that he must be absolutely uncontrolled. "General," replied the Emperor "I confer on you the safety of the Capital. Assume command." Republican and Democratic journals praise Trochu for his independence and firmness

A special to the World, dated Pont a Mousson August 20, via Luxemburg, says I witnessed a battle. The Prussians won it at fearful cost, the mitrailleurs doing awful work. Four villages and battle-fields are still strewn with the dead. From the front I can see the French on Mont St Quentin overlooking Metz from the East. Metz is surrounded, and looks as if preparations are being made for a siege. Gen Sheridan, from the King's headquarters, witnessed the battle

Englishmen just returned from Germany state that long trains of wounded Prussians, fill the roads to Berlin, and all the hospitals, producing great consternation among the people. The Prussian losses are said to be larger than the whole French forces that have yet been in action

A special to the London Times dated Paris, August 20, says Monadeck has returned from Metz. He witnessed the battles of the 14th and 16th. He says the action of the 16th took place on the heights southwest of Metz. It began at 9 o'clock and lasted until dark. The French lost 12 500 men. the Prussians probably double that number. The repulse of the latter was complete leaving to the French army a road open to Chalons and reinforcements

As an instance of Prussian discipline it is stated that a Prussian regiment recently captured some Turcos, when almost instantly the whole group were photographed and copies handed to the soldiers to enable them to identify the prisoners in case of their escape

Private letters describe the conduct of Marshal Canrobert, who took part in the battle of Thiancourt as heroic in the extreme. During the entire day he placed himself in the forward lines and personally headed charges of troops. His aid de-camp Bessinard had an arm shot off while by the Marshal s side

Advices from Pont a Mousson represent that the Prussians continue to make exorbitant requisitions. They endeavor to make 5 000 inhabitants feed 18 000 troops. The Journal demands that reprisals shall be made by the Baltic fleet for these exactions

A Paris dispatch of the 22d says Grain arrives in great quantities, and the city is provisioned for eight months. All this certainly indicates that if we are threatened with a siege we are prepared to sustain it. The people of Paris are in excellent spirits and full of patriotism. They will rise to this crisis to the height of the situation.

The Life Sustaining Principle

The vital and the muscular systems are entirely distinct from each other. A man may have the brawn of a Hercules but if he is deficient in the vital energy he will not wear as well or last as long or be as healthy and happy while he does last as the man of ordinary or even slender build who possesses a larger share of this animating principle. One of the greatest recommendations of that pure vegetable invigorant Hostetter s Stomach Bitters is that it increases the vital force of the system. No medicine can double the muscles of a man s muscle or thicken and vulcanize his thews and sinews but Hostetter s Bitters has an effect much more important. Its use promotes constitutional vigor. It reinforces the life power of which bone and sinew and muscle are merely the instruments holding the same relation to it that machinery does to steam. Let the slight and apparently fragile take heart. they may have more stamina though far less physical strength than the broad shouldered athletes they regard with envy. To restore to sustain to increase this staminal principle which when in full supply is the source of health and the best guarantee of longevity is a special property of the famous restorative. It is not only a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness intermittent fevers, constipation &c and a preventive of all diseases of a malarious character but the best of all medicines for strengthening the constitution and awakening the powers of nature from whatever cause they may have become lethargic

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened and a large number of Shares have been taken

The following extracts from the Oregonian and [illegible] will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association, the location of the land etc

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one exception (the Portland Homestead Association) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co operation of many individuals —shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad half a mile in length the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 80 fractional lots along the river front. The shares number 600 worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association, shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder the proceeds of such sales after deducting the original price of shares or lots to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $500 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen therefore that everything is co-operative and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss unless the property by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity for the last year or two it seems hardly possible for values to go back

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share which will exempt them from all assessments or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per share payable with the first installment being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full with the assessments as above the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary who gets $25 per month so it will be seen that the expenses must be light

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 70 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract affording the means of irrigation and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages, it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder if he choose may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided with the Association while the organization may exist —Oregonian

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads in the outskirts of this city and East Portland is being thoroughly discussed here among all classes and one homestead—the Riverside just south of East Portland has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H one side of which a half mile in length borders on the river

From this portion of the homestead which is elevated but a trifle above the other portion of the H but is still forty or fifty feet above the river can be had an extensive view of Portland East Portland the [illegible] and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two [illegible] will run across [illegible] between them connects the west [illegible] of the H [illegible] which has already been described with that on the east. This last tract of land is [illegible] fertile valley which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a [illegible] brook the water of which is clear as crystal. The Ohio Republicans in the Field—They Declare for the Germans.

From the New York Herald Aug 12

The Republican party of Ohio, in State Convention assembled, has nominated its State ticket and proclaimed its platform for the coming October State elections, which will embrace the choice of a full delegation to the National House of Representatives for the next Congress. The platform thus adopted declares—first, in favor of the continued ascendancy in the nation of the Republican party, embracing General Grant's administration as the party of liberty, equal rights, reform, economy, law, order and progress, &c.; secondly, it declares the Republican party of Ohio in favor of a revenue tariff with incidental discriminations in behalf of home industry; thirdly, that a change in our navigation laws, so as to admit of the registration of vessels purchased abroad, is demanded by the best interests of the country; fourthly, that the policy of granting subsidies of public lands to corporations and monopolists is unqualifiedly condemned.

All this is plain sailing and pretty sound doctrine, and especially in reference to the navigation laws and land subsidies to greedy corporations and monopolies. But while these Ohio Republicans have nothing to say about Cuba, St. Domingo, Mexico, or "manifest destiny" in any shape, they do not hesitate to define their position in reference to this European war. They say upon this subject that while they care nothing for the dynastic interests involved, nevertheless, "while we remember that the great German uprising of 1848 failed of success mainly for want of Germanic union," and while we remember that whereas "during our recent trial the people of Germany supported our cause with their sympathy and material aid, while the armies of France were endeavoring to subvert a republic on this continent and establish in its stead an imperial throne, we cannot refrain from declaring our sympathy with the heroic efforts of the Germans to establish, maintain and defend their national unity." In a word, touching this Franco-Prussian war, the Republican party of Ohio takes the field for its approaching October contest with the Democracy in favor of the Germans.

This, too, from various developments in other States, is the posture of the Republican party throughout the Union. Senator Carl Schurz, of Missouri, in leading off for the Germans, as a man speaking for his party by authority, and Senator Conkling, at Saratoga Springs, in emphatically taking the same side, knew what they were doing. They know that the Germans of our Western States are the strength of the Republican party, and that in the Central States and in the East they hold the balance of political power. The Irish-American element en masse is for France, and almost en masse it is with the Democratic party. How, then—the question still recurs—will the Democratic party go on this Franco-Prussian war? This is a very nice question for the Tammany sachems; but from present appearances they are inclined to England's policy of neutrality, a policy which, while it is distrusted by the French, is denounced by the Germans. What say the sachems to this other policy: "Hurrah for the French! Hurrah for the Germans! May the best man win!" Will not this cover the ground?

The Pope Offers Mediation.

[London Telegram, August 12.]

The following is the letter of the Pope to the King of Prussia: "Your Majesty: In the present grave circumstances it may appear an unusual thing to receive a letter from me, but as the Vicar of the Earth, of God, and of Peace I cannot do less than offer my mediation. It is my desire to witness the cessation of warlike preparation and to stop the [illegible] inevitable consequences. My mediation is that of a sovereign whose small domain excites no jealousy, but who inspires confidence by moral and religious influence. He personifies God, and may God lend an ear to my wishes, and listen also to those I have formed for your Majesty, to whom I would be united in bonds of charity." Given at the Vatican, July 22d, 1870. [Signed] PIUS."

The postscript adds: "I have written identically to the Emperor.

The King's reply is as follows: "Most August Pontiff: I am not surprised, but profoundly moved, at the touching words traced by your hand. It is the cause and voice of God that peace be heard. How could my heart refuse to listen to so powerful an appeal? God witnesses that neither I nor my people desired or provoked war. Obeying the sacred duties which God imposes on sovereigns and nations, we take up the sword to defend the independence and honor of our country; ready to lay it down when these treasures are secured. If your Holiness could offer me from him who so unexpectedly declared war, assurance of sincerity of a pacific disposition, and guarantees against a similar attempt upon the peace and tranquility of Europe, it certainly will not be I that shall refuse to receive them from your venerable hands. United I am with you in bonds of friendship. [Signed] WILLIAM.

THE FRENCH EVACUATION OF ROME—WHAT THE POPE SAID.—The New York Herald has this:

Just before the evacuation of Rome by the French troops the French Minister called upon Cardinal Antonelli to apprise him of the event. Cardinal said he would mention it to the Holy Father and give his answer to the Minister in the evening. Accordingly, in the evening, the Minister called again upon the Cardinal, when as reported by the Paris paper Le Temps, the following conversation, after the usual formalities, took place:

MARQUIS—And what does his Holiness say?

CARDINAL—He says, "God will provide for me. May I never see French troops again."

MARQUIS—Is that all?

CARDINAL—All.

We do not fully believe in this report. On the contrary, we doubt not that the Pope sorrowfully parted with the French troops after the seventeen years of protection and security they had given him against Garibaldi, Mazzini and the Reds. But now that the French are gone, the Holy Father, it may be said truly, has no other reliance than a merciful Providence; for King Victor Emmanuel, as a son of the Church, is but little better than a wolf in sheep's clothing.

THE AUTHOR OF "VANITY FAIR."—We clip the following from the World of August 7th:

The only high writer of fiction since the days of Scott is he whose bust, not his bones, is in the Abbey; who, seven years ago, died sleeping in his bed; whose children, two motherless girls, sorrowed meekly; whose family treasures were not greedily divided; whose walls were not covered with pictures from his own works, for he was too modest for that; who had been a visitor in America without either slandering or flattering us; who shed a tear for the desolated South; and left behind him, with those who knew him personally and those who did not, save through his works, that sweet lovely memory which literally blossoms in the dust. There lie before us as we write the words of a poor sick American girl which tell a tale of truth. "Often," says she, "when I have closed one of Thackeray's books, I sit thinking with a full heart how much I owe him of what is best in me, of the purest pleasure I have ever known, filled with thankfulness for the power which has been given me to appreciate him in my poor way." This is the track which he left behind him here.

Josh Billings has been to Long Branch, and thereof writes:

The biggest thing they have got here for the present, is the pool of water in front of the hotels. The pool iz sed bi good judges tew be 3,000 miles in length, and in some places five mile in thickness. Into this pool every day at ten o'clock, the folks all retire—males and females, and widders, promiskuss. They dress in flannel attire of menny colors, and look az near like when they are [illegible] a flock of ducks and drakes. The water in this pool has stood so long it has got salty, and ought tew be changed.

For some time past an impression has prevailed in the East that the copper mines of Lake Superior were ceasing operations. A local paper contradicts this, and says the mines were never more productive and profitable, free-trade slanders to the contrary notwithstanding.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The Church of Notre Dame des Victoires, in Paris, is daily crowded by the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the soldiers gone to the war, praying for the success of the men so dear to them.

A delayed letter from the Tribune's special correspondent at the Prussian headquarters describes an interview with Bismarck at Mayence on Saturday week. Bismarck said: "We are much obliged to the French for giving us time to get our whole army on the Rhine, and thence to the frontier. In a few days work will begin."

Baron Muralt, a Hanoverian, has addressed an appeal to the Hanoverians in France to form a "Wild Cat" legion of sharpshooters. He says he is not against Germany, but Prussian tyranny, and his wish is to combat the Hohenzollerns, who tried to efface from the map of Europe the name of Hanover. He is said to be a nephew of Bismarck.

The Opinion Nationale announcing the appointment by the Prussian King of Governors of the Provinces of Lorraine and Alsace, says: "Woe to the conquered should Prussia succeed. The French will be treated with unexampled cruelty, will be dismembered, robbed and crushed, that they may not at some future day seek revenge, and that the source of Democracy may be destroyed. The present war is one again of the Old against the New; of the rights of the people against Kings.

General Prim, who is the actual head of the Spanish Government, though Serrano is regent, has made his country the laughing stock of Europe. In a clever satirical periodical called The Period he is represented, in military costume, as a pilgrim, standing in Madrid, with the Royal Palace on one side and the hall of the Cortes on the other, holding a crown in his right hand as if it were a begging box, and exclaiming "Princes of Europe! a sovereign, only a sovereign I implore you."

The Courier des Etats Unis gives the following account of a French invulnerable cuirass: It is a cloth cuirass of a tissue extremely supple and light, the stitches of which are exceedingly close and absolutely impenetrable. The process of making and preparing it is a mystery, but what appears to be claimed is that bullets will not penetrate it; they glance off or fall harmless! The inventor himself is said to have stood the test of this. Clothed in a sort of flannel vest, very light, he received the charge of a gun without experiencing so much as a bruise! This belongs to the class, "Important if true."

The King of Prussia has issued a proclamation at St. Avold in which he declares military conscription abolished in all French territory occupied by German troops. He also announces that, though the French Government should persist in the forcible expulsion of Germans from France, no measures of retaliation will be adopted by him, "as it would be unfair to punish men for belonging to a country cursed with a Bonaparte for its sovereign." The King adds: "Frenchmen in Germany need not be uneasy. They shall, in common with all mankind, be convinced that Germany moves at the head of civilization."

A Paris letter to the New York Post says: "The approaching campaign has awakened old hates, memories; the French will tell you of the invasion of 1814, and of the invader's triumphal entry into Paris, when the present King William rode as a subaltern on the staff of the conquerors, and angry Gauls show their teeth and shake their fists as they read over the anecdote served up to them by one of the dailies, by which his Prussian Majesty is reported to have told Baron Haussmann, when he last visited the capital, at the time of the Exposition Universelle, 'My dear Baron, you have quite transformed this city since I was here in 1815.' 'Ah! le Brigand!' scream the irate blouses, 'we will show him that Berlin can be changed in less time—we will make it a faubourg of Paris!'"

M. Thiers, writing to a friend in England, says he has always been of the opinion that the time would come when the ambition of Prussia would have to be resisted by France. But he always supposed the time would only be when a just occasion arose, and when all the nations of Europe would acknowledge France to be in the right. "If," M. Thiers proceeds, "when asked for the production of the dispatches I could have had twenty-four hours' respite, I think that my countrymen, having time for reflection, would perhaps have pronounced for peace. I did not succeed, and now, always faithful to my country's flag, I can only wish for her success, while earnestly desiring that it may be at the least possible cost to humanity, and that it may bring about a lasting peace."

VARIETIES.

Upon the bridge over the Platte, leading out of Denver, Colorado, there was a year ago this inscription: "No vehicle drawn by more than one animal is allowed to cross this bridge in opposite directions at the same time."

A Wisconsin paper complains that the school mistresses in that State will get married, and wonders whether a general increase of salaries wouldn't work a reform. The innocence of the suggestion is one of the most reassuring signs of these wicked times.

Con. by a Son of a Gun!—Why are the new breech-loaders supplied with needles? To keep their breeches in repair, of course. . . From our own Correspondent.—Rumors of war from Europe must always be expected, for how can we get Pacific news by Atlantic Telegraph?

A good story is told of a clergyman residing at Calais, Me. In the kindness of his heart the reverend gentleman invited a footman to get into his wagon and ride. The clerical gentleman asked his companion, "If he was prepared to die," whereupon the latter leaped from the wagon and fled to a place of safety, doubtless considering the question synonymous with "Your money or your life."

A correspondent of the New York Tribune among the lakes of Maine writes that he asked a boy which was the best of several small lakes for fishing. The boy answered: "Lake Pisquattissaquaquapassamaquoddynixeum"—At this point the correspondent walked away, reached a neighboring lake, fished three hours, and returned. On his way home he met the boy where he had left him, still looking on the ground, and just finishing the name—"olossikthuguisnuggi." The writer dates his letter at "Lake Munkatunkoobogsquoitakoolsonape."

Teacher, in a loud tone—"What is your name?" Boy, in a weak voice—"Johnny Wells, sir." "How old are you, John Wells?" "Twelve years old, sir." "Now, John, tell me who made this grand and glorious universe?" "I don't know, sir." "What! twelve years old, and don't know who made this noble sphere!" James Smith go and cut me a whip." The birch was brought in and held over the trembling boy. In thundering tones the rigid disciplinarian demanded, "Now, tell me who made this great world we live in?" In a tearful voice, Johnny answered: "I did sir, but I won't do it again."

CURRENT NOTES.

Up to the 10th, the subscriptions in New York to the German patriotic aid fund amounted to $63,000, of which amount, all but $5,000 has been paid in. Of this amount 50,000 has been sent to Berlin, $2,000 has been expended in sending surgeons to the seat of war, and the remainder is deposited in the German American Bank.

Colonel Anderson Arnot, of St. Louis, is the oldest contractor on the books of the Post Office Department, having been engaged in the business for over thirty-two years. His mail contracts now amount to 300,000 annually, and extend from the Eastern line of Illinois to the extreme Western coast, and from New Mexico to the British possessions.

Machinery lately perfected in England spins and weaves from animal hair, of cats and rabbits, especially, either by itself, or with a slight admixture of silk, a sort of velvet tissue, distinguishable from silk, but not inferior in firmness and beauty. The principal colors are black and white though any color or shade common in other fabrics can be imparted equally well.

A Washington dispatch of the 15th says: Contracts for building four revenue steamers have been awarded as follows: An iron propeller of 350 tons to Pusey, Jones, & Co., of Washington, Del., at $75,000, two iron propellers, each of 250 tons, David Bell, of Buffalo, at $55,000 each, an iron side wheel steamer, 250 tons, to Dialogue & Wood, of Camden, N. J., for $80,000.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS

During thirty five years of the continuance of the Mercer Street Presbyterian Church, New York, the plate collections have amounted to three hundred thousand dollars, and the aggregate of [illegible] to.

The [illegible] year 1869, was 5,518,867 francs, equal to about $1,103,7[illegible]. This sum, it is said, represents about half what the Romish Church expends yearly on its missions. The various Protestant missions show an aggregate of about 60,000,000 francs per year, equal to $12,000,000.

Peter Cartwright, the noted Methodist preacher, spoke at Dubuque, Iowa, recently, and a paper of that city remarks: "It was a strange sight, and one we may never expect to see again, to behold a man in the pulpit before us who was 85 years old, had been 60 years a citizen of the West, and who, 60 years ago, crossed the Mississippi where is now St. Louis. He preached in the State of Illinois when Chicago was unknown, and he has spent 60 years in the saddle riding through the great West."

Ordinance No. 836.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving Harrison street from Fifth to Eighth street.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Harrison street lying between the east line of Fifth street and the west line of Eighth street shall be completed in the manner hereinafter provided, on or before the thirtieth day of October, 1870.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank, timbers or other obstacles or perishable materials (sidewalks, cross walks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade excepted.) If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent lots within three days from the service of notice by the Street Commissioner they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading, laying sidewalks, and crosswalks, together with plank gutters wherever the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the City Surveyor may direct.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 11 and 12 of Ordinance No. 793, entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets."

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress and shall be responsible for any loss or sacrifice occasioned by carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals, receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Street Commissioner.

Passed the Common Council Aug. 10, 1870.
W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved Aug. 11, 1870.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE,
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering untold misery from the effects of secret indulgence, or from disease absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of society, or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering from any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, while they are cured for and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, [illegible] made private disease his especial study, and is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [illegible] mercury or any injurious drugs. It is [illegible] who are afflicted, or to those who [illegible] welfare of their friends, to beware of [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities, [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days [illegible] public by using the names of [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore [illegible] strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of a solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, practiced by the youth of both sexes to a great extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which he can assure effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person whom he fails to cure, who will ascertain that he has the best advice of any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, who are aware of the sacred responsibility resting upon them, should obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and [illegible] patients a written instrument, binding [illegible] radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent through the Post Office or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and advertising doctors, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates of cures. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are [illegible] imposters, [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institute in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid deception is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not secure patients by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, or by employing solicitors, etc. Dr. Gibbon will kindly refer persons who call at his office of his ability to treat diseases he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney St., corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Leidesdorff St.) San Francisco. Post Office Box 233.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 233 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform Dr. Gibbon that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt, screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It requires no Gutta Percha or leather to keep it free in the draft or to rattle, and which is often dangerous in restive horses. In the quickly changing so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and it is always secure and safe.

It may be changed to a style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.
